

TOGETHER, WE CAN REDUCE AND PREVENT VIOLENCE IN CHILDREN AND YOUNG PEOPLE

A new school term brings renewed enthusiasm and fresh beginnings, but unfortunately, the threat of violence also increases as children and young people return after summer break.

Data from our violence reduction unit shows that violent incidents rise in September, and that incidents consistently spike after school between 3-4pm during term times.

As educational professionals, you play a crucial role in keeping children and young people safe, and we're here to support you. Our back-to-school briefing outlines the resources available to schools and teachers throughout the year.

Tools to help you

Not sure how to support a young person? Our range of guides can help:

- Explainer: understanding emojis
- Serious violence toolkit: how to prevent violence

Register for free pre-planned PSHE lessons

All Kent schools can now register for Pol-Ed, a free education program providing ready-to-deliver lessons on relationships, online safety and understanding the law.

Designed by teachers and police officers, Pol-Ed offers prepared lessons covering subjects such as harassment and healthy relationships to support your PSHE curriculum. Over 15,000 Kent children have already benefitted, with a third of local schools registered.

Visit the Pol-Ed website to sign up.

👁️ CLICK IT CHECK IT CHANGE IT

Being an active bystander: Clock It, Check It, Change It

Many young people witness unacceptable behaviour in and outside school, and you can empower them to safely step in and make a change.

Free resources from our Clock It, Check It, Change It campaign support conversations with young people about responding when they see or anticipate violent incidents.

Access the resources on our website

Our team can provide advice and guidance all year round.

vru.programme.delivery@kent.police.uk

kentandmedwayvru.co.uk

